Trainer’s path

Trainers path

The trainers path modules support the development of training and assessment competencies within the European Asylum Curriculum (EAC). They are designed to prepare professionals to deliver training, assess learning outcomes, and contribute to the overall quality and consistency of EUAA training activities.

These modules follow a train-the-trainer approach, enabling participants to transfer knowledge and skills within their national administrations and contribute to a multiplier effect across asylum and reception systems.

Who this training is for

These modules are intended for:

- current and future EUAA trainers and assessors
- professionals involved in the delivery of training within the EAC
- practitioners seeking to develop teaching, facilitation, and assessment skills

What these modules cover

Through trainers path modules, participants develop knowledge and skills related to:

- applying a learner-centred approach in training delivery

- using training techniques and facilitation methods effectively
- managing learning processes and common training challenges
- conducting fair and consistent assessments of learners
- providing constructive feedback and ensuring training quality

These competencies are essential to ensure that training is delivered in a consistent, effective, and high-quality manner across EU+ countries.

Available modules

The following training module is included in this category:

- Becoming and EUAA trainer and Assessor (BETA)

In addition, the following non-accredited training is available:

- Introduction to coaching

This training supports the development of coaching skills to complement training and assessment activities, including facilitating learning and supporting professional development in individual and group settings.
