

Resettlement

The European Asylum Curriculum offers three modules on the topic of Resettlement, designed to enhance understanding of key aspects of resettlement and complementary pathways. The Introduction to complementary pathways module provides an overview of alternative legal pathways for individuals in need of international protection. The Introduction to resettlement and humanitarian admission module covers the basics of resettlement programs and their role in humanitarian protection. The Selection phase in the context of resettlement and humanitarian admission module delves into the selection process for resettlement and humanitarian admission, ensuring best practices are followed.

Additionally, we offer a tailor-made training on Monitoring and evaluation of resettlement and humanitarian admission programs, focusing on assessing the effectiveness and impact of resettlement efforts.

On the topic of Resettlement, the European Asylum Curriculum offers 3 modules, namely:

- Introduction to complementary pathways
- Introduction to resettlement and humanitarian admission
- Selection phase in the context of resettlement and humanitarian admission

We also offer a tailor-made training:

- Monitoring and evaluation of resettlement and humanitarian admission programs