Learning outcomes & description

DESCRIPTION

This module aims to provide learners with the necessary knowledge and skills to identify elements of gender-based violence in asylum contexts and understand the potential needs of the victims of gender-based violence in asylum contexts to respond to those needs. The 'gender-based' aspect highlights the fact that the violence, often rooted in power inequalities between women and men, affects both genders but a disproportionate number of women. This fact is reflected in the content of the module.

It also provides learners with the necessary knowledge of what the concept of gender and gender-based violence is, how it affects people in general, and in particular people who apply for international protection, and what asylum and reception officials can do when they come across victims of gender-based violence in their professional contexts.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of this module, the learner will be able to:

Knowledge

1. Identify indicators of past, present, or potential future gender-based violence and its impact on the victims of gender-based violence

2. Explain the concepts of norms and non-conformity to gender norms and its potential consequences for applicants for international protection

   ### Skill

3. Analyse the potential needs of victims of gender-based violence in asylum contexts in line with CEAS

   ### Competence

4. Propose actions to address the needs of victims of gender-based violence in asylum contexts

DELIVERY METHOD

This module is delivered through a blended learning methodology (online, face-to-face and independent learning).

ASSESSMENT STRATEGY

The assessment strategy consists of a single evaluation at the end of the module focusing on a case study of an applicant for international protection who is a victim of gender-based violence.
