4.15.7 Providing information on return

In recent years, EU+ countries have focused on ensuring that accurate and up-to-date information is available to all potential returnees. In 2020, several initiatives were reported in this area.

Fedasil in Belgium published new brochures on voluntary return[1227] and developed a project to reach out to undocumented migrants outside reception capacity, jointly with the French OFII under the ERRIN programme with AMIF funding.[1228] Czechia explored new ways of reaching irregular foreign nationals and raising awareness about voluntary return programmes, for example by communicating with various facilities, like shelters and health institutions, where the presence of irregularly-staying third-country nationals might be anticipated.
