

7.2.9. Mobility and internal travel

In 2025, Jinnah International Airport (KHI) handled the largest share of travellers of Pakistani airports.²¹⁸² It is situated 14 kilometres east of Karachi's city centre.²¹⁸³ The flight-tracking website FlightRadar24 listed the following flight connections for KHI for the period 25 February 2026 to 4 March 2026. Flights to and from Skardu (Pakistan), Baghdad and Al Najaf (Iraq) operate irregularly.

Ongoing conflicts in the Middle East have led to 'widespread disruption' of Pakistan's air travel, due to flight cancellations.²¹⁸⁶

Karachi is connected to the rest of the country through motorways and national highways, including the motorways M-9 Hyderabad – Karachi, M-10 Karachi Northern Bypass, and the national highways N-5 Karachi – Torkham, N-10 Karachi – Gwadar, N-25 Karachi – Chaman.²¹⁸⁷

Pakistan Railway provides train connections from Karachi to major cities across Pakistan. The country's main railway line starts in Karachi and ends in Peshawar connecting among others Lahore and Islamabad.²¹⁸⁸ Public transport is primarily provided through the Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) system, which comprises two bus routes.²¹⁸⁹ In February 2025, the Sindh Government launched a new public transport service, 'Peoples Bus Service', operating 8 routes, including electric vehicles and buses dedicated to women.²¹⁹⁰ Depending on the length, a ride costs 80 or 120 Pakistani rupees [approximately EUR 0.2 or 0.3].²¹⁹¹
