The information contained in the EUAA website is subject to a privacy statement, a copyright notice, a disclaimer and a security statement.

Privacy Statement

EUAA is fully committed to user privacy.

The processing of personal data of individuals by the European Union Agency for Asylum (EUAA) is subject to Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC. EUAA does not collect personal information when you visit our website unless you choose to provide such information. The information we collect varies based on what you do when visiting our website. By using this website, you consent to the processing of data about you by EUAA in the manner and for the purposes set out below.

For any queries or complaints about the use of your personal data on this website you may at any time consult EUAA's Data Protection Officer or have recourse to the European Data Protection Supervisor.

1. If you respond to an online request for personal information:

   The information requested by EUAA will be used to respond to your inquiry or to provide you with the service associated with the request. When this information is requested, a specific privacy statement will describe fully the reasons for collecting it and will provide a description of EUAA's intended use of the information.

2. If you visit our site to read or download information:

   EUAA collects information on website usage (including IP addresses) for the purpose of analysing your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. EUAA will not associate your IP address with any other data held by EUAA.

3. If you identify yourself by sending an e-mail containing personal information:

   You may send us personal information in an electronic mail message. This information is used solely for responding to your requests. If you have any questions about the processing of your email and related personal data, do not hesitate to include them in your message.

Register of data processing records

The European Union Agency for Asylum (EUAA) maintains a central register of records on its personal data processing activities. This is a legal obligation under Art 31 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725, the data protection regulation applicable to European Union institutions.

The records contain general information on the data processing activities, including the:

- name and contact details of the controller, the Data Protection Officer and, if applicable, the processor, the co-controller(s) and the joint controller(s);
- purposes of processing;
- categories of data subjects and personal data;
- categories of recipients to whom personal data is disclosed;
- transfers of personal data to a third country or international organisation and suitable safeguards, if applicable;
- envisaged time limits for erasure of the different categories of data;
- technical and organisational data protection security measures.

EUAA updates the central register as and when necessary.
